

Privacy notice for the alliance staff and members

Under data protection law, individuals have a right to be informed about how the alliance uses any personal data that we hold about them. We comply with this right by providing 'privacy notices' (sometimes called 'fair processing notices') to individuals where we are processing their personal data.

This privacy notice explains how we collect, store and use personal data about individuals we employ, or otherwise engage, to work for or as part of the alliance.

We, the alliance, are the 'data controller' for the purposes of data protection law.

Our data protection officer is Louise Barber (see 'Contact us' below).

Where you have provided us with consent to use your data, you may withdraw this consent at any time. We will make this clear when requesting your consent, and explain how you go about withdrawing consent if you wish to do so.

Some of the reasons listed above for collecting and using personal information about you overlap, and there may be several grounds which justify the alliance's use of your data.

Collecting this information

While the majority of information we collect from you is mandatory, there is some information that you can choose whether or not to provide to us.

Whenever we seek to collect information from you, we make it clear whether you must provide this information (and if so, what the possible consequences are of not complying), or whether you have a choice.

How we store this data

Personal data is stored in line with our Data Protection Policy.

Data sharing

Individuals have a right to make a 'subject access request' to gain access to personal information that the alliance holds about them.

If you make a subject access request, and if we do hold information about you, we will:

To exercise any of these rights, please contact our data protection officer.
